

What I Love (2025) Aaron Cooper, MD

What I love about working at Kaiser Permanente is the ability that I get to change a life. Kaiser Permanente puts emphasis on keeping their members healthy. Preventative medicine is key. The more we prevent chronic illnesses, the more we prevent diseases. The longer our patients live, the more they get to thrive and live enjoyable, happy lives. I believe the quality of care at Kaiser Permanente is superb. A lot of that is due to the fact that we care. Trust is never bought, it's earned. And when patients see that you believe in them, that you want the best for them, they buy in. No different than any sports team. Once the team buys in, we get better results. Our patients get better results when they believe that their physician, their provider, has their interests at heart. Kaiser Permanente.
